OUTDOOR TRAVEL, LLC · WEB PROPERTIES

Five sites, five audiences

Everything Outdoor Travel Adventures runs on the web, and who each site is built for. Three are live platform portals — one each for advisors, clients, and suppliers. Two are consumer brands still ahead of their public launch.

The platform

3 portals · live

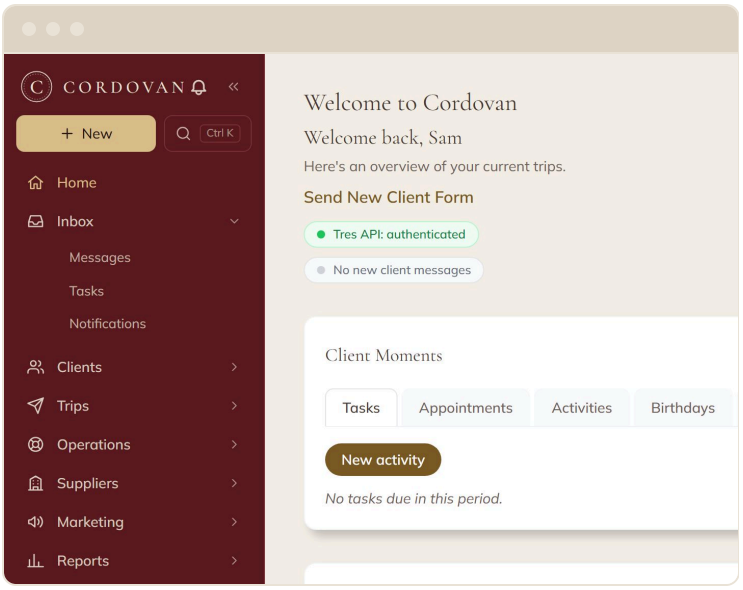

One system, three front doors. Each portal signs in a different kind of person and shows them only their own side of a trip.

Cordovan LIVE

advisor.otadventures.com

Cordovan is the advisor platform. It is where OTA advisors run their book of business. Add and manage clients, build and price itineraries, move trips through their stages, post travel documents, handle commissions and supplier bills, and schedule the work around a departure. Access is restricted to authorized advisors on a company Microsoft account.

FOR	OTA travel advisors and staff
SIGN IN	Microsoft work account only
ALSO ON	Android app (Advisor Portal)

Client Portal LIVE

client.otadventures.com

The traveler's own view of their trip. Clients see their itinerary day by day, read the documents their advisor has posted, keep traveler profiles and travel preferences current, settle payments, and message their advisor directly. They arrive either from an advisor's invitation or on their own, choosing an advisor from a directory.

FOR	OTA clients and their travel companions
SIGN IN	Apple, Google, Microsoft or email link

Partner Portal LIVE

supplier.otadventures.com

The supplier side of the platform, for the hotels, lodges, operators and DMCs that OTA sells. Partners keep their property and product content current, publish offers and advisories that reach advisors directly, and manage which of their own colleagues have access. Every account is scoped to one company, authorized by that company's owner.

FOR	Hotels, lodges, operators and DMCs
SIGN IN	Any provider, or a magic email link
ACCESS	Company-scoped, owner-authorized

Consumer brands

2 sites · coming soon

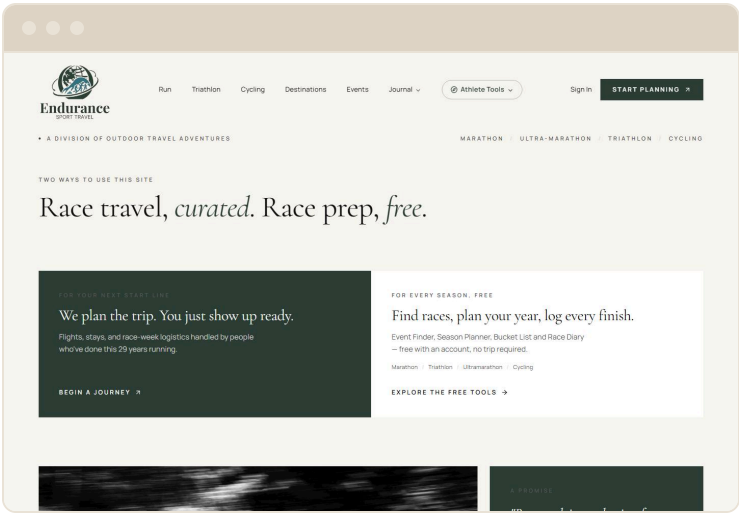

Two specialist brands aimed at travelers directly, each built around a segment OTA already knows well. Both are ahead of their public launch — treat them as preview until announced.

Endurance Sport Travel COMING SOON

endurancesporttravel.com

Race travel for endurance athletes — marathon, ultra, triathlon and cycling. The site works two ways. It sells fully planned race trips, with flights, stays and race-week logistics handled end to end. It also gives every athlete a free set of tools — Event Finder, Season Planner, Bucket List and Race Diary — that need no trip and no purchase.

FOR	Endurance athletes and their travel parties
SPORTS	Marathon · Ultra · Triathlon · Cycling

Paw & Voyage COMING SOON

pawandvoyage.com

Luxury travel for people who will not leave the dog behind. Bespoke itineraries built around properties, transport and activities that genuinely welcome dogs rather than merely tolerating them, alongside a travel journal and a small shop of travel gear. Trip planning runs through the same advisor team as the rest of OTA.

FOR	Dog owners traveling with their dogs
OFFERS	Itineraries · Travel journal · Shop
RELATION	An Outdoor Travel Adventures brand
